was less by $204,582.03. But last year, Mr. Thompson pointed out to the Governor and later paid out in interest on bonds; therefore the valuation this year is really about the same. The gross earnings in 1901 were $1,198,764.92; this year $1,367,810.78. The net earnings were $152,217.98, more than double the net earnings of 1901. Then Mr. Thompson told where this year's earnings have

SURPLUS SPENT FOR REPAIRS. Every cent made, he said, has been spent for repairs to the property. Not a cent has been distributed as profits. Track work, he said, has cost the company an immense sum during the past year, and he gave the cost of the work at Illinois and Washington streets as $15,646.47. Paving has also cost a mint of money, Mr. Thompson assured the board. Lacking a few dollars, it | tion at Veedersburg. cost the company $50,000 to pave between tracks on the principal streets. For trucks and motors, for overhead work, for boilers and generators, a sum amounting to more than $100,000 has been spent. Governor Durbin, who sat armed with a bunch of figures and intrenched behind a formidable barricade of papers, put in a question now and then that the street-car men answered clearly, if with some hesitation. The Governor wanted to know if earnings were not earnings even if they were expended for improvements. In addition, the Governor held that interest paid on bonds represents earnings and should be considered in fixing the valuation of the

The Governor's most effective questioning came after he had examined some figures submitted by the attorneys for the street-railway company. "I see that you have submitted the return on real estate and barns that was made before the Tax Board raised it $40,000," he said. "Why do you not give us the real return last year instead of the old one?"

Mr. Thompson replied that the company presented the old figure because it believes that it is the true one. A similar objection | Spencer House yesterday. was brought by the Governor to the return for the Louisiana-street barns, which was raised $10,000 by the Tax Board. Secretary Milholland answered the Governor by saying that the old return is the one given as correct by insurance and real-estate men. President McGowan declared that no intrinsic value could be placed on the stock. there is so much money needed every year. he said, for improvements, that the earnings are used up as they are made. He predieted that the chance for dividends next year will not be any better than it is this year. The company hopes to pay dividends some day, Mr. McGowan told the members of the board, but until the interurban situation adjusts itself and the projected roads are built, there does not seem to be much chance. Mr. McGowan concluded his talk by saying that when the old company had gone to wreck the new company had taken charge, assumed its liabilities and protected the good name of the city

FOR OTHER PROPERTIES. In the afternoon the board heard statements of Judge Olds, of Fort Wayne, in behalf of the Fort Wayne & Southwestern Traction Company. The new interurban line was also represented by its general manager, S. R. Nelson. On account of the fact that the road is new and that until April 1 it had shown a deficit instead of a dividend, the speaker thought the board should be considerate in fixing a valuation. The road is still incomplete, they said, and still unballasted. An immense amount of money will still have to be spent in order to bring | Philadelphia and Atlantic City. it into perfect condition. The representatives asked the board to take into consideration the values of other interurban roads in fixing the assessment on it. The road has had no opportunity, they told the board, to make money as yet. No schedule of earnings was presented by the Fort Wayne men because they assured the board that the road is not yet in shape to present such a

The assessment made last year of $11,000 per mile is much too high, he said, when the road's earnings are taken into consideration, and also the assessments made on other interurban properties. Alluding to the statements made by Mr. Irwin, a member of the board said after the meeting that while the property of the Union Traction Company of Indiana is assessed at $8,000 per mile, and the property of the Indianapolis, Greenwood & Franklin Company at $11,000 per mile, yet the and will return to the lake in a few days. extent of the mileage and the value of the properties must be taken into consideration. It is the rule of the State Board to first fix the total value of an interurban or a railroad property and then, for the sake of convenience, to distribute the valuation on a basis of mileage. The extensive system of the Union Traction Company, which he gave as an instance, would reduce its per-mile valuation to a figure below the per-mile valuation of the Indianapolis, Greenwood & Franklin, which he also mentioned for purposes of illustration, but in | for Chautauqua, where she will meet her that, he said, there would be no injustice, daughter, Miss Mary Share. POSTMASTER ADAMS, OF VINCENNES, PROUD OF KNOX COUNTY.

He Claims It Is the Best County in the State-Other Visitors at the Hotels.

"We've got the best county in the State of Indiana," was the rather broad assertion made by the postmaster of Vincennes yesterday evening. He alluded to the county of Knox, whose shores are washed by the placid Wabash. The postmaster of the historical old town which is the county | California. seat of Knox, is Thomas H. Adams, who is also editor of the Vincennes Commercial. Mr. Adams came to town yesterday on some personal business and while here looked after matters in connection with rural free delivery in his county. It is claimed for Knox county that it raises the biggest corn on the highest priced land and has the prettiest girls and the stanchest Republicans of any county in the State. Being a Second district county there are also some Democrats in that locality and most of them are of the free-silver variety. According to Mr. Adams this class of the Democracy is not well satisfied with the way things are going and particularly with the manner in which William J. Bryan is being neglected in this State. Although the district is heavily Democratic Mr. Adams thinks it would not be a very great surprise if a Republican congressman is elected. "The fact is," he said, "that the Second district is just now very busy and there is not much politics being talked. A great many improvements are being made in the way of new factories. The district is on a boom and we think this boom will have the effect of making the district Re-

BIG CROWD AT FAIR BANK TO HEAR JESSIE BARTLETT DAVIS.

She Had to Respond to Several Encores-Concerts by Weber's Band at Fairview.

The popularity of Jessie Bartlett Davis with Indianapolis audiences was displayed to even a greater extent at Fair Bank last evening than on the opening night of her engagement. Every seat in the park was occupied and the driveways were crowded with people when the artist appeared. The lighting arrangements had been improved and her gorgeous gowns and wonderful expression could be distinctly seen by those in the last rows of seats. Her voice, too, possessed the same richness of tone and volume that won for her the admiration of theatergoers of this as well as other cities. Persons on the outside of the park could distinctly hear her sing, so powerful and

STEAM ROAD OBJECTS TO TRACTION LINE CROSSING AT GRADE.

Mrs. Alice M. Spaan Is Granted a Divorce-Other Cases in the County Courts.

The Belt Railroad and Stockyards Company and the Indianapolis Union Railway Company yesterday filed a petition in the Circuit Court to enjoin the Indianapolis, Shelbyville & Southeastern Traction Company from crossing their tracks at Prospect street at grade. The petition sets out that the trolley wires of the defendant company would endanger the lives of trainmen and that the safety of the traction company's passengers and all concerned would be assured by the latter depressing its tracks sufficiently to pass under those of the plaintiffs. The petition says the plaintiffs are willing to raise their tracks two feet if the traction company will depress theirs sufficiently to pass underneath.
